2010 SUMMER CAMP

Florida Studio

Summer is a joyous and invigorating time at Florida Studio Theatre. We are offering an exciting array of programming this summer at FST for youth and teens. Our education department is entering its 28th year, our staff of theatre professionals is looking forward to nurturing and inspiring all of our students to reach the next level in their artistic growth.

FST's acting training is based on the Stanislavski method, teaching our students to move beyond memorization and learn to generate truth on stage. Our spirited classes give our students an enjoyable outlet for their emotional and creative growth.

Whether you have a beginning student looking for a one week introduction to theatre or a returning student interested in a four-week intensive experience, you will find a program to meet your needs at Florida Studio Theatre.

Theatre School

About the Classes...

The acting classes use a technique based on the Stanislavski method; the actor must learn to generate truth on stage.

About the Staff...

The staff is comprised of a core of theatre professionals trained to teach free from personal dictates. Our methodology helps each person find his or her own "door" to creative achievement. In addition, guest artists and teachers visit throughout the session.

Where...

Located in the heart of downtown Sarasota, 1241 N. Palm Ave.

Scholarships...

Florida Studio Theatre is happy to provide community outreach programs and scholarships for financially underprivileged families in our community. These scholarships allow kids who otherwise wouldn't be able to participate in our program the chance to be involved. It is FST's mission to make theatre affordable and accessible to as many people as possible, and we believe our classes give students of all backgrounds the opportunity to explore the power of their own creativity.

FST is able to offer scholarships through the generous gifts we receive from individuals and local businesses. You can make a difference in a child's life by making a tax-deductible gift to Florida Studio Theatre's Scholarship program today. If you would like to make a gift, or are interested in more information, please contact Adam Martens, Director of Philanthropy at 366-9017 ext. 316 or enclose a gift with your registration.

Philosophy...

The Florida Studio Theatre School is dedicated to nurturing the individual creativity of youth. We see children not just as individuals, but as creative individuals. From the beginning student to the serious performer, the FST School has a program designed to advance the young actor. Through participation in our program, actors will gain an understanding of the theatre which includes a solid acting method, stage technique and performance opportunities. In addition, the students will involve themselves in the entire creative process, from writing to playmaking.

Whether your interest is to explore personal creativity and confidence, or serious training in the theatre, you will find your child's artistic home at Florida Studio Theatre's School.

"I'm so grateful that my son has had such an extremely enriched experience of life by growing up with FST. The effects on him have been profound and priceless. His sensitivity and awareness fostered at FST have contributed greatly to a little boy growing to be a fine young man. And with his expanded self-awareness and self-conceptions, he is more fully prepared for his path into adulthood."
